

I think NJ is doing the right thing by being stricter than the federal Gov't in its Do Not Call Lists. This is what makes our states distinct. The consumers here love that fact that we have less phone interruption and prefer to be solicited by other means than the phones. Please do not fight NJ on this matter. If you do, you are taking away out individuality.